If you decide to connect a new device to the speaker, make sure the previously paired device is out of range or Bluetooth is turned off. The Dream Wave speaker will not pair to a new device until it is disconnected from the previous one.

To pause the music press the play/pause button once. Press once again to resume.

Power off the speaker.

Hold the power button down for five full seconds to turn the speaker off. The speaker will make a beeping sound as it powers down.

Charging.

Charge the speaker by connecting to any device that has a USB port, such as a computer. Remove the speaker from the spa and take it to the charging device. Locate the charging cable that is supplied with the speaker. Carefully flip the rubber power-supply cover (Figure 1). Connect one end of the charging cable to the speaker and the other end to the USB port on your charging device. A red light will come on indicating your speaker is charging. The red light will turn off when your speaker is fully charged. This should take about three hours. After it is charged, unplug the charging cable and make sure to completely close the rubber power-supply cover before using the device on the spa. A full charge should last for about six hours of use.
